

LEAD-FREE CANDY

Did You Know...

Lead is a dangerous metal that can be found in dirt, dust and paint.

Even small amounts of lead can cause irreversible developmental problems in children.

Lead poisoning is the top environmental health threat to children under six years old.

A child can have lead poisoning and not look or act sick, which is why it's important to get your child tested by a doctor.

Thanks to EHC, the California Attorney General's Office and partners, most candy is regulated and lead free.
